

Susan Fitzell's Neurodiversity in Biz Keynote/Training Intro

Do you want innovative strategies to unlock the full potential of your workforce?

Would you like to cultivate a workplace culture that harnesses the strengths of every employee?

Are you ready to tap into a competitive advantage by embracing neurodiversity in your organization?

Our speaker today has spent over 30 years empowering individuals and organizations to thrive. She's worked with businesses across industries to implement inclusive strategies that drive innovation, enhance collaboration, and maximize employee engagement. As an internationally recognized speaker, consultant, and author of over a dozen books, including Neurodiversity in the Workplace: Maximizing Success Through Inclusive Dynamic Workplace Design, she brings both personal experience and extensive expertise to the conversation.

Susan Fitzell is one of only 650 certified speaking professionals in the world today. She's a black belt in kickboxing, a student of kung fu, and a competitive dancer. Her family proudly embraces their geek status, and her two adult children, one with learning challenges, both earned mechanical engineering degrees using the same strategies she'll share with you today.

Whether you're a leader looking to foster innovation, an HR professional focused on talent management, or a manager seeking to support your team's growth, Susan's insights will offer practical, actionable solutions.
